LAKEWOOD, Colo., May 14, 2007 - The leading local retail natural gas distribution utility unveiled its new name today - SourceGas - to reflect its clean, efficient and reliable product and services. Residents of Colorado, Nebraska, Wyoming and Hermosillo, Mexico will see the distinctive green and blue SourceGas logo on ads, mailings, vehicles and signs.

State regulatory commissions in Wyoming, Colorado and Nebraska approved the acquisition of SourceGas, or more formally, SourceGas Distribution LLC, during the seven months since GE Energy Financial Services announced the transaction in August 2006.

“Our new name underscores our ongoing commitment to quality service – a commitment that makes us the consumer’s best ‘Source’ for natural gas,” said Dan Watson, President of SourceGas. “SourceGas and its 585 employees are excited to unveil our new blue and green logo that reflects the clean and efficient natural gas our team of experienced technicians delivers safely, reliably and with integrity.”

SourceGas’ high-quality customer service continues as in the past and local and operating personnel remain the same. Customers will see the SourceGas names and logos immediately on signs, monthly customer bills, and newspaper and radio advertisements. Customers will also notice both the SourceGas and Kinder Morgan names on their gas bills for a short period of time. This transition will be complete by July 1, 2007.
